1	GENERAL MARKET REPORT.
	COTTON—The cotton market was very quiet to-day. New Orleans and Liverpool were closed, and the three markets will, of course, in common with all the markets, be closed to-morrow. It was the last December delivery day and a notice day in the local market, Some few notices were circulating, but without effect on prices, and business was at practically a standstill. The opening was 1 to 3 points lower; prices sold off a point of two, but steadled in the middle session, and toward the close the market was firmer on some local buying which may have been designed to influence Liverpool on Wednesday. The close was steady at a net advance of 4 6 flo points. Sales for the day were estimated at 25,060 bales. There was no news of consequence. Rumor had it that various firms were swapping notices in the Street, and that the notices on conton issued last Friday were drifting from some of the banking interests back to the original holders and spot people. Southern spot markets were more or less nominal and generally unchanged. Recepts continued full, but were hardly a factor in the day's business, although bears are counting upon the movement to check buying for long account after the turn of the year. Estimates are beginning to be heard as to the showing of the census report expected on January 9. It is expected to show from 11,500,000 bales would be buillish.
-	The range of contract prices in the local market to- day was as follows.

erally moderate and of a selective character all through the week. Selected young hen turkeys were in fair demand and held firmly up to Friday at 19c, but mixed weights had only a moderate outlet, while straight young toms ruled slow all the week. On Saturday, with continued heavy arrivals, a weaker feeling developed and 18c became top for hens and 18c for toms. At the close receipts and involves continue liberal, demand exceedingly slow, and with weather unfavorable the general feeling was weak and unsettled on almost all descriptions. Fancy large soft meated roasting chickens not in large supply, as most of the large chickens are now running coarse and staggy, and average offerings have ruled slow and prices weak and irregular. Selected heavy dry picked fowls are also scarce and firm, but average grades of fowls very dull. Capons are now arriving from Ohio, but seiling slowly. Ducks not plenty and held about steady for choice grades. Geese are selling slowly now that holiday trade is over, and feeling is a shade weaker. Choice large squabs in good demand, but ordinary grades very dull. We quote: Dry packed—TURKETS, Jersey, Maryland and Delaware, per lb. 186 22c; do Ohio and Michigan, scalded, fancy, hens, 18c; do mixed, hens, and toms, scalded, 176217 lpc; do young toms, 166 leitie; do other Western, young hens, fancy, 18c; do hens and toms, mixed, 17617 lpc; do young toms, 16c; do fair to good, 14616 do Southwestern, 144215c; do interior, 116216-46.
